While everything possible is being done for him, there appears to be but slight chance for his recovery. Family and friends anxiously await the latest news from his bedside, hoping and praying for his recovery.
Earl E. Roberts, of Steelville, Crawford county, was in Farmington Tuesday at attorney for J. H. Ronney, charged with criminal assault on C. J. Adams, superintendent of the Doe Run Lead Co. Mr. Roberts demonstrated considerable legal ability in the conduct of the hearing, making quite a favorable impression on those who heard the preliminary hearing.
Rev. Wm. A. Tetley, of Poplar Bluff, arrived in Farmington Tuesday, and on the same evening opened a protracted meeting in the M. E. Church. For a number of years Rev. Tetley was exclusively engaged in revival work, in which he was very successful, and only recently has again been assigned to regular pastoral work. Rev. E. H. Orear is leading the song services, and a great religious outpouring is confidently expected before the meetings are brought to a close.
In this issue The Times presents the name of M. L. Palmer, of Flat River, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Constable of St. Francis township, subject to the action of the Nominating Primary on August 3, next. Mr. Palmer is a well known and highly respected citizen of Flat River, where he has been engaged in business for a number of years, and for the past twelve years has been a resident of this county. He is popular with all, and there is no doubt among his many friends that, if he secures this nomination, his election will be assured, and furthermore that if elected the duties of this office will be conscientiously and carefully looked after.
The protracted meeting at the M. E. Church, South, has started with great promise. Rev. Mr. Tetley is an exceptionally strong preacher and without any circumlocution goes straight to the point. He is a splendid actor and so far there has not been a dull moment in his sermons. He is a man of conviction and his keen thrusts of truth are sometimes startling. Mr. Tetley has the gift of humor in his preaching and his audience is always expecting something and are not disappointed. The attendance is increasing and the growing interest promises a most gratifying revival meeting. Services every afternoon at 2:30 and every evening at 7:45. Sunday, there will be held three services for everybody.
The County Board of Appeals met Monday to hear complaints of everyone feeling themselves aggrieved at their tax assessment. All whose assessment had been raised at the recent meeting of the Board of Equalization had been notified of such fact, and also notified to present any grievance that might exist in their mind at the meeting of the Board of Appeals Monday. But there were very few complaints presented, and the Board adjourned Monday evening until next Monday morning, when they will again convene as a Board of Appeals for the hearing of any further assessment complaints that might appear by that time. After this work shall have been dispensed with, the County Judges will meet as a County Court for the dispatch of the county business in general.
The City Council has designated next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 5th, 6th and 7th, as annual Clean-up Days. On these days the city will employ workmen, with wagons and teams, to haul away all refuse that property owners or tenants may place in the alleys, without expense to resident. Therefore, in advance of the above dates all residents are urged and expected to thoroughly clean their premises. Everyone should be more than pleased to work in unison in this matter, when they will receive such material assistance from the city, so that Farmington should soon shine forth in resplendent beauty. Not only this, but a thorough renovation of Farmington is very essential to perfect health conditions. Therefore the city authorities are going to insist on making this Clean-Up Day a thorough success.
The Times this week is pleased to present to its readers the name of F. M. Horton, of Flat River, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Assessor to succeed himself. Mr. Horton was elected to this office two years ago, and while this is regularly a four year office, he was elected to fill an unexpired term, and the chances are that he will have no opposition for the nomination. During the past two years Assessor Horton's work speaks for itself, and needs no commendation. He has neglected no opportunity to do that important work in an absolutely fair and impartial manner, playing no favorites, and his assessment returns, we believe, will compare most favorably with any such returns that have ever been made in St. Francis county. He is known by his many friends as a high-class citizen, than whom there are none better.

HALTER-WILLIAMS

On Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Lieutenant Bryan Halter and Miss Trix Williams were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.
Both these young people are well known in Farmington, have lived here all their lives and are prominent in social life. The groom is a recent graduate from West Point Military Academy and has just returned from an inspection tour through France and Germany. He holds the commission of Lieutenant in the regular army at one of the posts in Georgia. He is held in very high esteem by the people of Farmington and is a young man of splendid character.
The bride is one of Farmington's most popular young ladies, very active in church and social work, a member of the Southern Methodist choir and superintendent of the Junior League. Also a member of the Monday Club and interested in social work. She is a most charming young lady with an attractive and winning personality which enables her to number her friends by her acquaintances.
The wedding was attended by about sixty guests. Music was furnished by an orchestra, composed of Dr. John Robinson, piano, Mrs. Lee Rariden, violin, Harry Williams, cornet, and Phil Shaw, saxophone. After a beautiful solo by Mrs. E. H. Orear, accompanied by Miss Alma Williams, the orchestra played the Mendelssohn Wedding March, during which the bride and groom came into the room, and while Mrs. Lee Rariden softly played a violin solo Rev. E. H. Orear, with a most beautiful and impressive ceremony, pronounced them husband and wife together.
The groom was dressed in the regulation uniform of the regular army. The bride was beautifully attired in a bridal dutchess satin, trimmed with passmentry and channechilli lace. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley and made one of the most beautiful brides one would ever hope to see. The wedding was very beautiful throughout, and after refreshments the happy couple went by automobile—well marked and designated by the usual signs and accompaniments—to Bismarck where they took the train for Palm Beach, Florida at which place they will spend their honeymoon.
The very best wishes of their many friends follow these estimable young people to their future home in Georgia and wish them the greatest possible joy and happiness.
